

Industrial Development Bond

Industrial Development Bond funds are available to manufacturers who require a sizable amount of funds to establish their business. Millions are attained when bonds are sold in the market place and the business plan, capital contributions and financials of the manufacturer are key components to getting the deals done.