

Texas Skills Development Fund

Companies can qualify for customized training grants from the Texas Workforce Commission through the Texas Skills Development Fund. The qualifying company must work with a community college or other authorized training provider. Typical grants are around $1,200 per trainee and are limited to $500,000 per project.